Paving To Be Delayed

Paving of downtown streets in the urban renewal area will be delayed until December 26, following requests by merchants who appeared in a delegation at an Urban Renewal Board meeting Monday night and met with Mayor Blake Tuesday morning.

Bandas Co. of Temple, contractor on the paving job, agreed to wait until the 26th when Mayor Gene Blake called him Tuesday morning to see if the paving could be delayed.

The contractor was to have started on the job Wednesday.

Mayor Blake explained to merchants at the Tuesday meeting that Bandas has only one source of supply of asphalt, and the city might be taking a chance if it delayed the paving.

Merchants at the meeting said the Christmas season is when they do about 20 percent of their business, and blocking off streets during the last two shopping weeks would hurt them.

The Mayor explained that completion date for the project is March 8, 10 weeks from now. He pointed out that delaying two weeks would leave just 8 weeks for completion.

RC&D Committee To Serve At County Level

In its organizational meeting last week the Milam County Resource Conservation and Development Committee elected Henry Abel, a farmer in the Sharp community, as chairman.

Richard Crowe of Buckholts was elected vice chairman and William Kelm of Cameron, secretary. Other members serving on the committee are Hugo Aigner of Ben Arnold, Harvey Kelm of Thorndale, Mrs. Denson Rubac of Cameron, Rodney Prinz of Rockdale, D. S. Smoth Jr. of Gause, B. M. Starner of Rockdale, Mark Towery of Thorndale, H. M. Yager of Maysfield and John D. Yorum of Milano.

This committee will serve at the local county level as part of the six county Resource Conservation and Development group. Other counties in the project are Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills and San Saba.

Gilbert Kretschmar, the project chairman, explained the concept of RC&D projects as that of local people of an area engaging in total development and use of all resources.

--natural and human. He stated further that RC&D projects provides a base for people to come together to plan and carry out action that will make their area a better place to live, work and play.

The objective of the county committee is to provide local grass roots input to the overall six county project. They will be looking at the natural resource base to determine what problems exist and what is needed to solve these problems. They will also be looking at the resource base to determine the potentials and development needed to get full benefits from all local resources.

Abel closed the meeting with a charge to the members that "this is a grass roots project and the returns to Milam County will depend on interest and input from Milam County people."

United Fund Drive Now Underway

Cameron's United Fund drive got underway this week with businesses being contacted and a house to house drive will follow.

Agencies benefitting from the fund include Cameron Day Care Center $1,000; Community Center $100; Boy Scouts $2,000; USO $100, Salvation Army $2,075; Red Cross $2,075; Little League $600; and Central Texas Council on Alcoholism $150.

This is a total of $8,100. The original fund drive was scheduled at $9,000, but funds for Girl Scouts were dropped since there are no Girl Scouts in Cameron.

Kathy Dodd Joins Herald Ad Staff

Mrs. Kathy Dodd has joined the advertising and layout department of The Cameron Herald, according to George Jones, ad manager.

She worked with the couturier department of Sakowitz, of Houston, for six months prior to her recent marriage.

Mrs. Dodd attended Tarleton State University, Stephenville for 2 1/2 years, before joining the Sakowitz staff. She is a graduate of Lamar High School, of Houston, her home.

She majored in English and art at Tarleton State. She recently married Lon Dodd, of the Clarkson community.

New Service For Elderly Is Proposed

A new service for Milam County senior citizens, those 65 and over, is being proposed in a pilot program called the Milam County Home Management Service.

Details and explanation of the project were given to the Noon Lions Monday by Mrs. Virginia Schuhsler, who is in charge of the program.

She explained that Milam County was chosen by the Central Texas Council of Governments, planning group, because the 1970 census figures revealed that the county has a high percentage of those 65 and over.

As the service is organized and begins to function, the service representative will be in contact with the elderly to help them in many ways, especially for those who are recuperating from an illness or who have a health problem. The representative will work with the elderly in their homes, and can be aided by volunteer workers who offer time to help in the project.

The Milam County organization recently completed an application to the Governor's Committee on Aging, which will be evaluated by December 17, and the committee will notify the organization if it will be a going concern.

Mrs. Schuhsler said Coryell County now has a similar program which is functioning and is of great help to the community.

She added that volunteer groups are interested and the local Future Homemakers of America now have a project dealing with the welfare of the elderly.

Mrs. Schuhsler is sharing an office in the Community Center and may be reached at 697-2511 or at home, 697-2292, for information on the project.

Registration Set For Kindergarten

Pre-registration for second semester kindergarten will be held at Ben Milam Elementary School on December 18 and 19 from 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Children that are five years old whose birthdays are on or after March 1, 1968 are eligible. To pre-register children must have a valid birth certificate and an up-to-date or current immunization record.

Children who have already pre-registered or who have been attending kindergarten need not pre-register.

Local School Board Studying Ways To Save Gas, Electricity

Finding ways to save 15 percent on gas and electricity was the main topic at the Cameron school board meeting Monday evening, with guidelines from Governor Dolph Briscoe giving trustees something to worry about.

The guidelines call for setting thermostats lower, but three of Cameron's schools have no thermostats, they are using steam heat which is either on or off. This was one of the reasons Supt. D. R. Dodson said there was a serious problem in complying to the letter.

A shorter school day suggested in the guidelines will be put into effect during January, February and March, with five days allowed for closing schools during extremely cold weather. The school would not be penalized for the five days closing. Trustees agreed that this would have to be "played by ear" with closing not scheduled until the weather is bad.

The guidelines suggested cutting class periods from the present 55 minutes to 45 minutes with classes dismissing at 2:30 p.m. or 3:30 p.m. if Daylight Saving Time goes back into effect. This would make the school open at 9 a.m. with classes starting at 9:30 a.m.

The board must file an energy saving plan with the Texas Education Agency. Measures to be taken include being careful with the heaters at junior high that do have thermostats, watching lights to see that they are turned off when not being used, and regulating boilers as best as possible to conserve heat.

In other business, Supt. Dodson reported that he is having trouble locating steel for construction of the new field house. He also said that he has made arrangements to have the fire escape installed at Ada Henderson School.

A committee of Forrest Sapp, John Henderson, and Mrs. Carol Barr was appointed to look into the feeding of athletes and other students on out of town games and other events. Dana Kestenbaum during the discussion said the school ought to feed all students on such trips or none at all. Dodson estimated it would cost some $2,000 a year to feed athletes, band members, tennis team, golf team, baseball team, etc.

Three of the lunchroom cooks appeared and asked for a raise from their present $1.60 an hour salary. It was pointed out that they had not had a raise in the last three or four years. Board voted to raise their salaries and those of custodians from $1.60 to $1.80 an hour.

A report on the school bands was given by band director Don Czapinski, who explained his method of selecting students for the band at junior high. This came under some discussion and Kestenbaum said all children should have an opportunity to play in the band, even if they had to sit on the "last chair." Czapinski said slower children can't absorb as fast as others and would hold back the top players. He said there should be two groups in each

County Awards Bid, Hears Wolf Problem

Milam County Commissioners awarded the bid for insurance for the county to an Austin firm during a regular meeting Monday morning, and heard a report on the wolf problem in the county.

Bid for auto liability, comprehensive general liability, and workmen's compensation insurance was awarded to Employees Casualty Co., Austin on a low bid of $10,157.

Other bids were from Southwest Assurance Co. of Austin at $14,767; Camp Insurance of Cameron at $12,925; and Mamie Hefley Insurance of Cameron at $24,531.

Commissioners went into executive session after opening bids and discussing them, for decision on the awarding. Representatives from Camp, Mamie Hefley, and Southwest companies were on hand for the bid opening and reading.

Judge O. B. Harden said that he has had a number of calls concerning the wolf problem in the county. Many of the callers asked if the county could start a bounty system on the wolves.

The county wolf trapper, Clifford Morgan, is having a difficult time band, in fact, there were two in the high school band, one that would play in UIL contest.

He said an assistant director would be of great help, especially in giving students individual attention.

Also discussed was the adult recreational program using the Yoe gym at night. Board agreed that the group should change their time to a Saturday or Sunday afternoon when lights and heat would not be used so much.

Forrest Sapp suggested that the board ought to look into purchase of a lot next to junior high where a delapidated, burned out house was torn down. Frank Luecke, Herald editor, told the board that he came to encourage them to think about installing new tennis courts on the lot if it is purchased. He said he thought there would be space for two courts.

trapping wolves since the cyanide bomb was proclaimed unlawful, Judge Harden explained. The county now pays $275 a month for the wolf trapping service.

Wolves are hard to trap, and if they are hunted with dogs, that is disturbing to farmers who have cattle, Harden added.

Local attorney Don Humble and his client Hugh Stewart of Houston appeared before commissioners and asked that a road be opened to Stewart's property south of Milano. Humble explained that at this time there is no access road to the property, and that the county could get the public road by condemnation proceedings.

Humble noted that Stewart was not a "land speculator," that the land had been in his family for some 64 years. Stewart told commissioners he is planning to build retirement property on the land.

Humble said Stewart would pay fees, right of way, dozing, fencing, railroad crossing and culverts for construction of the road, leaving the county to blaze the road and lay surface.

It Is Performance...

The 10 - 1 Yoemen are developing faster than we had hoped (See 114, Nov. 15, Herald, 'These Are Men')

It wasn't even close in the finals of the Robinson Invitational Tournament when Cameron squashed West, 81-39, for the first tourney championship for a Yoe basketball team in 15 or 20 years.

Cameron won its first AA district title three years ago and won the North Zone AAA last year. But neither team made it four straight in a tournament.

This bunch did. The height, the outside shooting, and the hustle is combining for a classy, young club. If they keep their head and raise the fieldgoal percentage, it's liable to be "statesville" toward the end of the season.

This team is deep. It is also an example that might make a hip put on cowboy boots or a cowboy let his hair grow a bit.

Class is not jive talk nor financial statement nor your favorite color. It is performance.

Real Cattle Country...

What was cotton country, that part of Texas east of Fort Worth and San Antonio and north of the Corpus area is now cattle country.

By count, about 60 percent of the Texas cattle industry is in what is South, South central and East Texas. West Texas, where the herds used to roam, accounts for about 30 percent.

By the same token, dairying is big in East Texas where climate encourages pasture growth. Dairying is strapped by the seven-day-a-week schedule to keep the industry going.

But the grazing of large animals has moved with the times to Central Texas even as cotton went west some 20 years ago.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

25 SENATORS URGE GASOLINE RATIONING

Senator Adlai Stevenson III (Ill.) "... Yesterday, with 24 of my colleagues, I sent a letter to President Nixon urging him to immediately maximize the production of fuel oil distillates by reducing the refining of gasoline, and also initiate a program of consumer-level gasoline rationing..." (Excerpts from the letter follow):

U.S. Senate,
Washington, D.C.
The President,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President: We are deeply troubled by your unwillingness to increase the supply of fuels for essential purposes by limiting the production and consumption of gasoline. We believe the time has come for resolute action...

A decrease in gasoline consumption can come out of non-essential fuel users and create the necessary fuel for essential uses.

By reducing gasoline production and consumption, you could keep America's factories and industries open this winter. To assure that non-essential gasoline consumption is reduced, and available supplies allocated fairly, we also urge you to ration gasoline...

We urge you to act now.
Sincerely,
Senators Stevenson, Jackson, Ribicoff, Burdick, Cranston, Eagleton, Metcalf, Hughes, Muskie, Abourezk, Proxmire, McIntyre, Hathaway, Hart, Abourezk, Uroxmire, McGee, Mansfield, McGovern, Randolph, Williams, Humphrey, Symington, Inoye, Kennedy.

CRUMP'S GRASS

ROOTS COMMENT

It's doubtful if any Senator would volunteer to decide who was a non-essential user of gasoline. That would be left to a faceless bureaucrat of which gasoline rationing would create thousands.

Gasoline rationing in peace time would lead to black marketing and the growth of a huge bureaucracy of which we now have an over abundance.

In the event of gasoline rationing it's unlikely any Senator would find it necessary to join a car pool to get to his office.

State Insurance Board Sets Hearings On 'Pitches'

Hearings will be held soon by the State Insurance Board to see if misleading or deceptive "sales pitches" are being used by the insurance industry in Texas. Joe Christie, Chairman of the Texas Insurance Board, says the goal of the board is to protect the consumer and build confidence in the insurance industry.

"People need insurance. The Board wants to make certain they are getting good information about the product," he told the Austin Ad Club last week.

"Some of the troubles of the insurance industry are caused by failure to communicate properly with the buyer. We are not getting life insurance rates, and we will hold hearings to compare rates. The Board will issue comparisons on life insurance policies and rates for the buying public."

Insurance is the largest industry in Texas, he added, and a difficult industry to regulate. "The board started publishing names of agencies and agents who have been found guilty of abusing the public, and we have seen a decrease of complaints," Christie continued.

Another goal is to clean up deceptive advertising, he told the ad group.

Christie asked the ad leaders to help the Board make certain the buying public knows about deviating rates in fire and casualty insurance.

"Shop for your insurance as you would groceries or any other product. You can get a 10% reduction on your automobile insurance for example if you take the defensive driving courses. Watch for optional coverage on personal injury insurance. It will be on your bill if you do not specify that you "do not" want it.

"We are going to study "no-fault" insurance and health care in Texas too. We want to know if "no-fault" will lower our insurance rates, and what the buyer might have to give up in rights to get the lower rates.

"The Board plans to set up a Health Maintenance Organization to see how health care is delivered in Texas.

"We do not question the quality of health care in Texas, but we want to know the quantity of health care," he concluded.

DEMOCRATS CRANK UP - Texas Democrats are looking down the road to 1974 and 1976 national party conventions.

They set for December 15 here a State Democratic Executive Committee rules panel hearing to consider delegate selection procedures for the December 1974 "mini-convention" or policy conference.

State party officials must, by resolution, provide for compliance with rules on delegate selection and "affirmative action" to assure wide open participation in lower-level conventions.

The party must take steps to encourage convention activities by youth, minorities, women and others traditionally under-represented in its conventions. The same requirement carries over to the 1976 national presidential nominating convention process.

Gordon Wynne Jr. of Wills Point described the "mini-convention" full-participation program to be agreed on by SDEC here next month as the "fore-runner" of the 1976 concept to be followed in presidential nominating procedures.

SDEC's resolution on delegate selection and affirmative action must be submitted to the Democratic National Committee prior to Feb. 1, 1974.

HOSPITAL PROGRAM CHANGED - The Governor declined to sign an agreement with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to implement state and local review of health care facility construction in Texas.

His action left hospitals and nursing homes eligible to participate in federal programs without getting a state certificate of need.

Aides to Briscoe said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington has assured them there is no penalty to the health care industry if a state does not participate in the review program.

Briscoe advised new construction proceed cautiously so as not to build a facility where it is not needed.

COURTS SPEAK - A three-judge federal court here heard arguments over whether state House members should be elected from individual districts in nine metropolitan counties.

The court will rule in January whether Travis, Nueces, Tarrant, McLennan, Lubbock, Jefferson, Galveston, El Paso and Hidalgo counties should have single-member districts. Bexar, Dallas and Harris counties already have such districts.

A divided Court of Criminal Appeals held marijuana offenders convicted before April 23 and appealing for lighter sentences cannot be resentenced under the new Texas drug act.

The State Supreme Court refused a motion for rehearing in Toyah school district's fight to avoid annexation by Pecos-Barstow Consolidated Independent School District.

A Deaf Smith County man lost an appeal from a 99-year sentence for rape - for holding his own wife while another man attacked her.

APPOINTMENTS - L. D. Whitehead of Del Rio was named by Gov. Briscoe to the Advisory Council on Community Affairs.

Briscoe appointed Robert R. Ashworth of Amarillo, Leon Stone of Austin and Dr. W. T. White of Dallas to the board of trustees of the teacher retirement system of Texas.

Named to the board of directors of Brazos River Authority were W. C. Wiese Jr. of Calvert, Clint M. Walker of Tahoka, Kermit Ashby of Plainview, Billy Joe Wilson of Hamlin, Harry H. Moore of Navasota, Lyndon Olson Sr. of Waco and Don Coppedge of Waxahachie. Moore, Olson and Coppedge are reappointees.

Briscoe placed on the Youth Camp Safety Advisory Council Raymond B. Bean of Dallas, Paul L. Bisenherz of Austin, Mrs. Garza A. Boggs of Austin, Miss Louise Fargher of Fort Worth, Hugh Hornsby of Austin, Rodney James Kidd of Austin, Armah F. Leuhrs of Dallas, Tom Manison of Friendswood, Miss Alice H. Mulkey of Dallas and Silas B. Ragsdale Jr. of Hunt.

Harrison Vickers of Houston resigned as executive director of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear Editor:

According to an article I read last night during network cable trouble there is a move on in Congress to get a Constitutional amendment requiring the dismissal of any Congressman who's absent from his job 40 per cent of the time.

As one Congressman pointed out, best of fellow members just don't show up very often, and he said that last year the House was unable to function on 330 occasions because no quorum was present.

I have thought this over and I don't believe such a Constitutional amendment ought to be passed.

While I don't know what legislation was supposed to be voted on during those 330 times a quorum was absent, it's possible that if all members were on hand we would now have 330 new laws, and as everybody knows we've got more laws now than we can obey, as nearly any executive of a big corporation can tell you.

To change the subject, I've been speculating lately on the oil shortage and got to wondering what shape we'd be in now if the more rabid environmentalists had been organized millions of years ago when all our fossil fuel was being made. I mean, if they'd rushed in and saved the dinosaurs and other species from extinction, we wouldn't have had any oil to start with.

Another thing that's been puzzling me is a TV ad for a savings and loan association saying if you save $50 a month for 15 years, letting the interest accumulate and being added to the principal, at the end of the 15 years you could draw $50 a month in interest every month from then on, for ever.

But say instead of $50 a month you and everybody else in say $200 a month. At the end of 15 years everybody would have enough interest coming in to live on and nobody would ever have to work again. I don't understand money.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

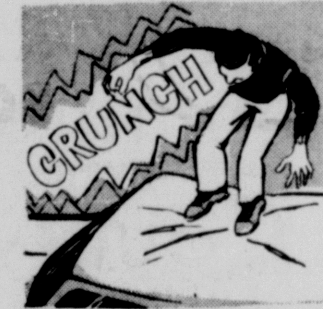

About Your Collision Insurance

Gordon parked his car next to an apartment house, unaware that a burglary was taking place inside the building. The burglar leaped from a second-story window, landed on top of Gordon's car, and made good his escape.

Gordon, however, wasn't so lucky. His jumped-on car needed $180 worth of repairs. Was he entitled to collect insurance for the loss?

"Sorry," said the insurance company, "but you are not covered. You do have collision insurance, but this was not a collision."

However, when Gordon took the matter to court, the judge ruled in his favor.

"Collision," said the judge, "means the impact of objects through one of such objects moving against the other"—and this incident fitted that description.

Most motorists carry at least some collision insurance. Typically, this covers the damage done when one car bumps into another. However, it has often been held to extend to more unusual situations.

One motorist collected collision insurance when his car hit a mailbox by the side of the road; another, when his car rolled into an open elevator shaft and fell to the bottom; another, when his car ramed into the curb.

Nevertheless, there are limits. In one case, the paint on a man's car was damaged when he ran into a hailstorm. He insisted that this was covered by his collision insurance, because his car had "collided" with the pellets of ice.

But the court decided this was stretching language too far. Tossing out his claim, the court said: "We do not speak of falling bodies, such as sleet or hail, as 'colliding' with the earth. In common parlance, the apple falls to the ground; it does not collide with the earth."

Electricity. Still one of the biggest bargains in your budget.

Sharply rising costs of producing electricity have forced Texas Power & Light Company to ask for an increase in rates to be effective in March of next year.

Even with the proposed rate increase, we think electricity will still meet the "Bargain Test."

A bargain must fill some want or need of the purchaser. Its cost must be balanced with its benefits.

Electricity fills lots of wants and needs. Heating. Cooling. Lighting. Cooking. Washing. Drying. Ironing. And many more.

Cost, of course, is the final measure of any bargain and you must balance your cost of electricity with its benefits. Start with the fact that the average price of each kilowatt-hour of TP&L electricity used in the home today is about one-half what it was in 1952. Consider, too, the many ways and the many hours electricity serves you.

We believe you will still "add up" electricity as one of the biggest bargains in your budget.

Agriculture Needs Representation, Says Sen. Bentsen

Noting that agriculture has been denied representation on Administration energy policy-making councils Senator Lloyd Bentsen said today that the needs of farmers must be given strong consideration in this time of energy shortage.

In a letter to the President, Bentsen urged that the new Federal Energy Administration include a representative of agriculture. This new cabinet level agency is charged with alleviating the current energy crisis and planning for future needs. "The importance of this Nation's agricultural production warrants careful planning to insure that adequate fuel supplies are available in our food production efforts," Bentsen said in his request.

He pointed out that farmers have been pressed to increase production in order to lower consumer food prices, but have been strapped by a serious shortage and unwise distribution of diesel fuel.

"There are many cases of field work having been stopped due to a lack of fuel. This situation has resulted in farmers strongly questioning the wisdom of increasing their production effort," the Senator said.

"Farmers cannot be expected to increase the acreage they are planting without some assurance there will be fuel for harvest."

In his letter Bentsen expressed concern that the previous administration policymaking body, the Emergency Energy Action Group, did not include in its membership a representative of agriculture.

New Cotton Varieties Praised

A scientist's effort to improve plant vigor by building "adversity resistance" into three new cotton varieties has resulted in earlier harvests and higher yields for many Texas producers this season.

His Tamcot SP cottons--SP37, SP21 and SP23--are storm and multi-disease resistant as well as early maturing, characteristics that enabled growers to harvest their cotton early despite a delayed harvest in many areas.

In fact, the nation's first 1973 cotton bale was the SP 37 variety. The adversity-resistant SP cottons were developed by Dr. Luther Bird Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientist at Texas A&M University. As plant pathology professor for the past 23 years, Bird has conducted research aimed at the economic control of disease by applying genetic improvements to plant strains.

Besides the SP cottons and several successful earlier varieties, Bird has exciting new strains under development that "look quite promising."

The SP cottons have received a tremendous acceptance in Texas this year, and are making a major contribution to production, said Dr. J. A. Miller, Experiment Station director. Ultimately, the production benefits are passed on to consumers.

Growers along the Texas Gulf Coast feel that the SP cottons received a thorough test from adverse weather and growing conditions this year. Generally, the early maturing characteristic permitted the varieties to be harvested ahead of rains which hampered harvests in many regions.

"We must have these Tamcot SP cottons or be forced out of business by unfavorable weather," declared Henry Smith, veteran county Extension agent at Wharton. Dan Pawlik, county agent for San Patricio and Aransas Counties, and other agents and producers echoed Smith's enthusiasm.

A HAVEN FOR PINK BOLLWORMS AND BOLL WEEVILS--Unharvested cotton still standing in flooded South Texas fields are heavily infested with pink bollworms and boll weevils, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reported. Commissioner White urges all cotton farmers to begin clean-up operations as soon as harvest is completed. The infestations in South Texas could spread if the insects find stalks and debris for hibernation.

Stock Show Entry Deadlines

Potential exhibitors of horses, sheep, swine and cattle at the 78th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show were reminded Saturday that entries must be in the Stock Show office or post marked by Saturday, Dec. 15.

W. R. Watt Jr., Stock Show general manager, said exhibitors of rabbits, poultry and pigeons have until Jan. 15 to make their entries.

Watt also called to the attention of county agricultural agents and vocational agricultural teachers that junior exhibitor's entries must be made as a group before the Dec. 15 deadline. Entries sent in by individuals for junior entries will not be accepted and will be returned.

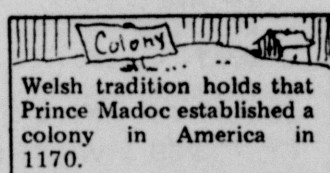

FFA chapters and 4-H clubs will register Feb. 2 for poultry judging, and on Feb. 3 for range and pasture plant identification contests. No entry fee is charged, but each judging team coach must post an entry intention with the Stock Show office before Jan. 20.

Entry forms and premium lists, noting more than $275,000 in premiums and prize money for the Stock Show, Horse Show and Rodeo, are available by writing the Stock Show office at P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101, or by person from the office at 3401 Crestline Road.

The Stock Show will exhibit more than 13,000 head of fine livestock with new breeds of Brown Swiss in open and junior dairy classes, Brangus in open breeding cattle classes, Maine-Anjou in the Steer Show, Morgans in Horse Show performance classes, and competition for non-professional riders in open cutting horses contests.

A highlight of the 1974 exposition will be the National Centennial Angus Show, observing the 100th year since the black breed of cattle was introduced to America.

Gardening Meeting Set Here Monday

By Bill McCutchen

Interest in home gardening is really increasing. If you are interested in getting off on the right foot next year on your gardening program you will want to remember the Home Gardening Meeting, Monday afternoon, December 17 at 2 p.m. at the First National Bank meeting room in Cameron.

Dr. John E. Larsen, Extension Horticulturist, who is an avid gardener himself will be in charge of the program.

Topics discussed will include selecting sites for gardening, soil fertility, variety selections and other common gardening problems.

This meeting is open to all interested persons.

New Drinking Slogan

Instead of "one for the road," drinkers are urged by the Texas Safety Association to take up a new slogan this winter--"one for one."

It takes about an hour for the body to eliminate the effects of one drink. So allow just one drink an hour or one hour before driving for each drink, says TSA.

ASCS Notes

A total of 902 ballots were cast in the 1974 ASC community committee election. Elected as community committeemen in order of chairman, vice chairman, regular member, first and second alternates were:

Extension Granted For Stalk Plowing

AUSTIN Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has granted an extension to the Nov. 30 deadline for cotton stalk destruction to Texas farmers who still have unharvested acreage.

Following a notice Tuesday of the deadline, Commissioner White received numerous reports from farmers in Falls, Ellis, Navarro, Johnson, and Hill counties that it is too wet in those areas to get harvesters into the fields by the deadline.

The area covered by the extension includes forty-five counties bounded by Hoods, Panola, Newton, and Burnet counties.

Texas Department of Agriculture personnel will be checking in the area to make certain that all harvested fields have been cleared of stalks and debris which could provide hibernation headquarters for cotton insects, Commissioner White said.

"The state is facing a serious threat to next year's crop. Heavy infestations of pink bollworms and boll weevils are in fields from the Rio Grande Valley to the Upper Coast. Extensive rains have left fields deep in mud; over 1400 acres in the Valley are still under water."

"We cannot stress enough the need for cotton farmers to get their crops in as soon as possible and to get the stalks plowed under," Commissioner White said.

Farmcast

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

The Best and The Worst... Cotton Deadline Extended... Now Down To Two.

Texas agricultural producers are finding that 1973 has and is turning out to be a year of some of the best prices they have seen, but are also finding that this year has presented them with some of their worst times, too.

Farm prices were at record highs this past summer; now, farm prices have dropped as much as a third for beef cattle and broiler prices have been cut in half.

Making plans for 1974 is now uppermost in minds of Texas agricultural producers. And they look ahead and see complete confusion and uncertainty over availability of inputs for 1974.

No one knows yet how severe the energy crunch will be to farm production. But farmers also face severe shortages of fertilizer, some top quality planting seed, implement repair parts, labor, and new equipment.

Farmers are also finding that next year's crop production costs are going to continue to increase, and some economists are already talking about the price-cost squeeze hitting again at the farmer's pocketbook.

Farm income next year is already being forecast at levels below this year's record pace. Uncertainties over exports of U.S. farm production is also causing some farmers to wonder about 1974 production plans.

Agricultural producers are beginning now to put together plans that will determine the extent of food and fiber production next year.

COTTON stalk destruction deadlines have been extended in most areas of the state due to the weather conditions. Texas Department of Agriculture personnel will be checking those areas to make certain that all harvested fields have been cleared of stalks and debris which could provide hibernation headquarters for cotton insects.

Early cotton stalk destruction is perhaps the best weapon farmers have to control insects for the next year's crop.

Even though you may be in an area which has an extended cotton stalk destruction deadline, it is wise to destroy as soon as possible cotton stalks. Production of next year's cotton crop will be greatly enhanced by cotton stalk destruction now.

ONLY two counties in Texas are now under cattle scabies quarantine. They are Hansford and Bailey.

Recently, Castro and Deaf Smith counties were removed from the quarantine area.

Scabies is caused by tiny, parasitic mites that puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Heavy infestations result in the formation of large, crust "scabs" on the skin. Although the animal's meat is not affected, scabies can cause loss of weight and decreased feed efficiency.

BRUCELLOSIS control regulations are expected to go into effect Jan. 15, 1974. The Texas Animal Health Commission has compiled a nine-page regulation dealing with this disease in Texas.

A complete copy of the revised regulations are available at the offices of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Fertilizer Use Important Despite Higher Prices

As sure as the sun comes up in the morning, fertilizer prices are on the way up. How should farmers react to this major addition to an already long list of price increases for agricultural inputs?

"We don't expect farmers to cut back much on fertilizer use," says John Box, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "It's simply a matter of economics."

With prices for farm products running well above the long term average, Box believes that producers cannot afford to cut back on vital production inputs such as fertilizer. At least not if they expect to reach maximum economic yields.

Even though fertilizer prices may increase as much as 25 per cent over last season, the Texas A&M University System specialist contends that it will still be profitable for farmers to use fertilizer.

"Let's look at it this way. Consider a grain sorghum farmer in the Blacklands who has consistently produced 80 bushels of grain per acre (about 4,000 pounds) with a $12 investment in fertilizer. That's a fertilizer cost of 15 cents per bushel. Figuring the same amount of fertilizer at $16 per acre (a 33 and 1/3 per cent increase), the fertilizer cost per bushel at the same yield level would be 20 cents."

A nickel a bushel is a big increase for fertilizer costs, noted the agronomist, but consider that grain sorghum futures are now well above $4 per hundredweight. "This makes the added cost look like a good investment."

"It all boils down to this," contends Box. "Producers cannot afford to risk anything that might reduce their 1974 yields below their long-term average."

The agronomist urges producers cannot afford to risk anything that might reduce their 1974 yields below their long-term average. The agronomist urges producers to use fertilizer at the recommended rate and to strive for maximum efficiency. And a good start is to follow a reliable soil test.

Cotton Harvest Nears Completion

Cotton harvesting gained momentum throughout the Central Texas Blacklands and Brazos River Bottom this past week, reports J. B. Russ, officer in charge of the Austin Classing Office.

According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, gathering operations are virtually complete in all areas except the Brazos River Bottom, Waco-Temple, and Crockett areas, which are 70-80 percent complete.

Quality statistics for the week ending November 16 show 58 per cent of the cotton graded in the Light Spotted grades.

Brazilian Scientists Test 'Unisex' Contraceptive

By Uli Schmetzer
RIO DE JANEIRO
Reuters -- Brazilian scientists are testing a revolutionary 'unisex' contraceptive pill which can be taken by either partner.

incho, a leading international figure in the field of contraceptive research.
"A woman can take it for 12 months and then rest for 12 months while the male partner takes it," he told reporters here. This rest period was very important, allowing full recovery from any undesirable side effects.

Countinho said there was a risk of slight changes in the reproductive organs of men and women after prolonged use of the pills, but the body returned to normal once the pills were stopped.
The Brazilian scientist and his team at the World Health Organization (W.H.O.) research center in northeastern Salvador believe the unisex pill could herald a new era of shared responsibility in birth control.

The same team has already developed a long-term contraceptive capsule and a male contraceptive pill.
The "slow release" capsules are injected into the arm or buttock and offer sterility for as long as two years.
Other researchers are now trying to perfect a dissolvable version of the injected contraceptive, to avoid the unsightly bulges produced by the capsules beneath the skin.
The capsules have already been tried experimentally on more than 3,000 women in Salvador.

With the unisex pill the team is so far working with only 30 couples.
It will not be marketed to the public until all its effects have been thoroughly studied and international approval secured.
Countinho's earlier research work on the male pill was prompted by the need for a rest period for women and on the pill.
He claims it has the added advantage that it is capable of increasing the man's sexual drive.

The male pill is based on noresteroids, which impede maturation of the sperm, and on androgens which counteract the resultant loss of libido. Depending on the proportionate "mix" of these constituents, the pill can be designed to enhance male libido.
"We can say today that the male pill is in a very advanced state," says Countinho. "It is more efficient than the female pill since it does not permit any spermatogenesis and has no side effects."

A man must take it for six weeks before it becomes effective, and he recovers his fertility five weeks after he stops taking it.
But Countinho admits that the biggest obstacle to male pill-taking is psychological -- many men see it as leading to a loss of masculinity.
"This is especially true in Latin America. I think, the Latin American men will be the last to take the pill. The Americans will be the first."

100 million -- is one of the few countries with a policy of encouraging increased population. Birth control is frowned on and it was only recently that the work of Countinho and his Salvador research team became public knowledge here.
Countinho, 37, father of two teenage daughters, denies that the government has tried to impede his work, which is now being shared with research teams in the United States, Chile, Sweden, Finland, and Austria.

About The Realty Of Santa

COLLEGE STATION Parents often wonder what to tell a child about the reality of Santa Claus.

"Some children are very down to earth -- they want to know, in so many words, if he's real or pretend," Dr. Jennie Kitching, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, observed.

"Such a child should be told that Santa Claus is pretend."

"Every parent faces this decision those seeds of doubt start bouncing around in the child's head. If a parent can get the child to enjoy the spirit of make believe, fine.

But if the child definitely does not want to be fooled don't press the point.

"Many children, especially of school age, grow to accept Santa Claus as a representative of the holiday season and the spirit of love and giving," she explained.

"At the other extreme is the child who too easily loses the distinction between dream and reality."

"Everything that he pretends is very real to him. He needs help in making distinctions between fact and fiction."

"Parents can do this by gently reminding the child, 'It's fun to pretend about Santa, isn't it? Santa Claus is one way of sharing good feeling with people," specialist noted.

"Parents, ministers and educators often discuss whether or not to perpetuate the myth of Santa Claus."

"Persons ask, 'If a child is told from the beginning there is no Santa will he miss much of the excitement and fun of Christmas?'"

"One way to keep the magic and gaiety without later disappointment children is by treating Santa Claus and his flying reindeer as a wonderful game of make believe."

"The Jolly man is symbol of good cheer and gifts which accompany Christmas."

The whole family can hang stockings, understanding that Santa is an imaginary character."

Tracing his image of Santa Claus as a child grows older, Dr. Kitching said that "A child two or three years old will join in the ceremonies, but no matter what he is told, Santa is real to him. Children of this age cannot separate fact and fantasy."

"By four or five years of age, while he still has a sense of awe and wonder, he may begin to know that Santa Claus is not an actual man who packs his reindeer on the roof and slides down the chimney."

"It is about this age that children begin asking how Santa Claus can be on every corner and in every store. Many parents explain about Santa's helpers."

"This is a beginning to introducing the idea of sharing and helping as the real message of the Christmas season."

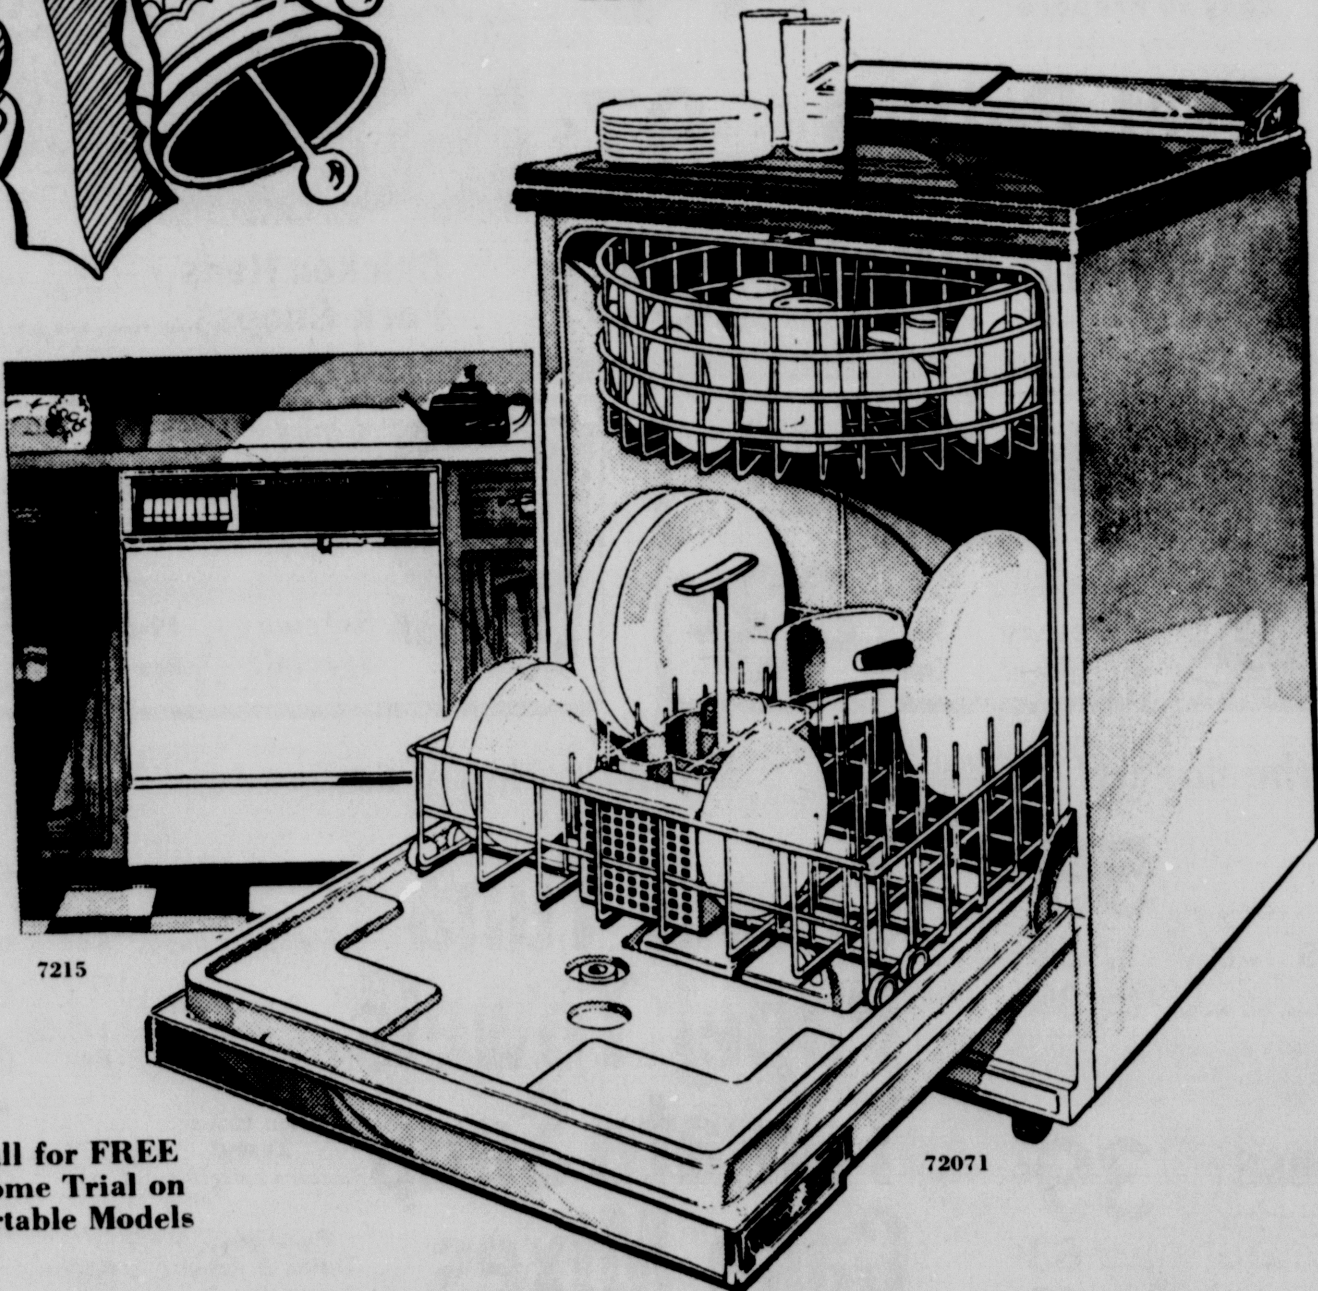

Rogers HD

Rogers - The Rogers Home Demonstration Club will have the Christmas meeting 2 p.m. Thursday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. M. H. Cannon. The Program will be presented by Mrs. H. A. Schubert.

Among the more than 1,500 Farm Bureau members attending the Texas Farm Bureau convention Dec. 2-5 in Abilene, were 12 delegates from Milam County Farm Bureau.

A total of about 900 voting delegates, representing the majority of the 209 organized Farm Bureaus in Texas, were present at the 40th annual meeting held in the Abilene Civic Center.

The convention adopted state policies for 1974 and recommendations on national issues.

Delegates registered Sunday Dec. 2, before participating in the evenings activities which included a vesper service, discussion meet and talent find.

On the agenda for Monday morning were the president's annual address, deliveries by J. T. Woodson of Gober, and a special address on the energy crisis by guest speaker John C. Whitaker, under-secretary for the U. S. Department of Interior.

A ladies luncheon was held at noon.

Monday afternoon was devoted to special conferences on community services, young farmers and ranchers, livestock, dairy, rice natural resources and wheat and feed grains. That evening 12 district nominees competed for the title of state

Farm Bureau queen. Selected queen was Miss Belenda Whittenburg of Levelland.

Tuesday's activities included a voting delegate breakfast, the administrative report delivered by TFB Reid. Conferences on field crops, research and education, services, poultry, farm labor, and cotton were held Tuesday afternoon.

In conjunction with the awards program on Tuesday evening, those attending the convention were entertained by Jeanie C. Riley of "Harper Valley PTA" fame, and a five-piece country and western band, The Home-standers.

The convention business session began Tuesday afternoon and continued through Wednesday. The last order of business was the election of directors and the TFB president. The president for 1974 is J. T. (Red) Woodson of Gober.

Question:

Is Lone Star doing everything it can to hold down costs?

Answer:

Yes!

We're operating more efficiently than ever before. But our costs are going up none the less... just like yours.

For instance, the interest rates on money we have to borrow for constructing new gas supply systems have increased dramatically. These rates have recently been at all time highs.

Within the last 18 months, we have invested nearly $100 million:

to build a large diameter, 400-mile pipeline from West Texas to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, for other facilities along this pipeline, to attach major new reserves and to pay for well drilling by producers... all for the purpose of assuring continuing natural gas supplies to our customers.

These investments don't even include the cost of all the gas we must buy to fill the line. In 1969, natural gas cost us about 19 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Recently we paid more than 85 cents for major new supplies. And the price is still rising.

Costs like these are the price Lone Star must pay for your continuing natural gas supplies. It's important that you understand our need for adequate rates so we can continue to deliver clean gas energy to your home for winters to come.

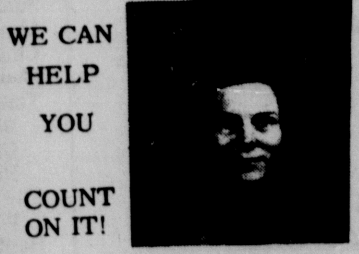

We're doing everything possible to hold down controllable costs. But even with gradual rate increases, natural gas from Lone Star will still be your most economical and efficient non-polluting fuel.

CTC Sets Registration For Spring

Central Texas College began pre-registration for the spring semester, 1974 on Monday, December 3, 1973. Pre-registration will continue at the College through January 7th with final registration held on January 14th.

Students who pre-register have the advantage of choosing their classes at times more convenient to them and avoiding many of the lines at final registration. Classes for the spring semester will begin on January 16th.

Prospective students who plan to attend Central Texas College on a full-time basis in the spring semester, 1974 must make an appointment with a counselor in the Student Services Office (526-1222). During the appointment, the counselor will assist the student in planning his course work in the program the student wishes to enter. Returning students should contact their department chairmen to set up an appointment for counseling.

Students may register at the Central Texas College Records Office from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Fridays. Registration materials for entering Central Texas College are available at the Records Office.

A $5 non refundable pre-registration fee applicable to final tuition and fees will be required at the time of pre-registration. Also, the student must present evidence that he has acquired the immunizations required by state laws at the time of pre-registration.

December 1903—the law of gravity was questioned when the heavier-than-air machine left ground. Man was no longer chained to the earth.

It's a long way from Kitty Hawk to "jumbo jets." Although we can fly farther, faster today, one fact remains: sooner or later, we must return to terra firma, for earth—not sky—is our home.

Yet our house is not in good order. Pollution, war, hatred, misery mar this world. It shouldn't be like this—and it wouldn't . . . if we would let the Church help us transform Christ's example into human action.

Variety Of Skirts, Maxis Replace Traditional Sari

By Ram Suresh

NEW DELHI
 Reuter -- Trouser suits, skirts, maxis and a variety of dresses are gradually replacing the traditional sari and the loose-fitting salwar-kameez (a kind of pajama suit) among young Indian women.

Campuses and bazaars are no more a riot of multi-colored saris wafting elegantly in the breeze, as more and more girls appear in functional dresses they see as an extension of womens lib.

It is liberation from being wrapped up in six yards of cloth along with the liberation from the kitchen. "It was okay when a woman was a devi (goddess) at home, but as we move into the mens world we want dresses that are easy to move in," says one.

And in these days of rising costs, people are probably realizing that dresses are cheaper and wear longer. "Three gowns at the cost of one sari," a textile advertisement proclaims.

But older women still stick to the sari -- yards of cloth wrapped around over an undershirt known as a petticoat with a blouse that is called choli for a top.

Many Indian men still consider the sari the more graceful of the dresses. And an outsider recently remarked: "The sari always fascinates me as I am always wondering what is inside."

But even that has changed in recent years. The women do a tight wrap-around that brings out the lines more clearly. The sari has moved down from the waist to below the naval and the blouse has moved up revealing the midriff. The neckline has dropped too.

Several years ago, a knee-length mini-sari was introduced. But the idea never really caught on and died quickly.

Then for the fashion conscious, but more prudish, Indians there is the lungi, a slight variation of the south-east Asian sarong. With a top, the dress keeps everything covered even while accentuating the curves.

The first distinct fashion change over the past decade was a tight-fit churidar kameez that replaced the traditional loose-fitting pajama suit in the north India.

But gradually girls were finding out that the dress could burst at the most embarrassing places while, say climbing into a bus or squatting. Running was out of the question. Now they are being replaced by stretch pants which, along with the slightly loose kameez, provides easier movement while retaining an Indian touch.

The western-style dress revolution hit the country with a bang just a few years ago. Today most young girls wear and prefer them. Bells, flares and jeans are common in offices and colleges, and maxis and others at parties and weddings.

The revolution has apparently been aided by visits to India from top european dress designers in search of exotic Indian fabrics and motifs, the trend-setting actresses of Bombay film world, and also the wandering hippies from the west.

A string of boutiques and womens fashion shops have sprung up in the countrys fashion capitals of Bombay and Delhi and other big cities. Western designers are returning with not only Indian fabrics, but also designs.

While most of the long gowns are fashioned after western designs, the distinctly Indian tops are becoming a craze and fashion export appears to be becoming big business.

Once outmoded Indian dresses like the colorful ch-gra skirts of the Rajesthani women and the Gharara or harem suits of the Moghul days are being revived and given a new look. Fashion shows are becoming a regular feature and Indians renowned handloom textiles are getting a much-needed boost within the country.

An article in a recent issue of the illustrated weekly of India said things Indian had turned the world of fashion topsy turvy. It went on: "The Indian spirit seems to have generated a new mood and fashion is having another fling. From Carnaby Street to the Indian village, everything Indian is in."

That may be an exaggeration, but there is no denying that Indian fashions are catching on around the world and India is catching up with the world of fashions.

Dinner To 'Welcome' Connally

Texas Republicans will hold a "Welcome John Connally" dinner with U. S. Senator Barry Goldwater as the principal speaker on Thursday, Dec. 13, in Dallas.

Connally, former Texas governor, announced his switch in parties earlier this year. He has said "I left the Democratic Party of my father's past to join the Republican Party of my children's future."

Fred Agnich of Dallas, GOP national committeeman is dinner chairman.

"John Connally has been actively participating in Republican functions across the nation, but this will be his first opportunity to be in Texas for a fundraising event," Agnich said. "We're anxious for him to have the warmest welcome possible to our Party activities. He is already one of our most articulate spokesmen for Republicanism."

Agnich added, "While we are welcoming John Connally we're also paying tribute to Barry Goldwater. He has innumerable friends and admirers throughout the state. He is one of our most outstanding senators."

trous apartment block fires in which a total of 43 people died, many by jumping from upper floors.

The Los Angeles fire department is itself experimenting with a net used to scoop up astronauts from the ocean after their splash-down.

Dangled from beneath a helicopter it can pick four people at a time from the roof of a burning high rise building.

Robinson says the plastic air bag, being developed by a New Orleans company and undergoing tests by many fire departments in the U. S. can be air-inflated in as little as three minutes at the fire scene.

"Of course I hit professionally and there are some ways you can land, like on your forehead, which would kill you," Robinson says.

"But I estimate that 60 per cent of the people who jump into these bags will walk away unharmed, 30 per cent will have broken bones or some major injuries and 10 per cent will die.

"But that's a lot better than the nearly 100 per cent who die jumping in high rise fires now."

Robinson, who made his first public leap for the television film "Smile Jenny, You're Dead," says the best way to land in the bags is either on ones behind or back.

Air Bag Tested For Fire Leaps

 An air-inflated plastic bag which could save the lives of people who leap from burning skyscrapers is being tested here by a film stuntman.

The five foot tall air bag has so far been successfully tested for jumps from up to 10 stories and walked away sion is being developed for leaps from up to 20 stories.

Stuntman Dar Robinson, 26, tested the bag in public here early last month from 10 stories and a larger version scathed.

Robinson, one of Hollywood's top stuntmen, recently jumped off a 97-foot cliff into 10 feet of water in Hawaii for the escape scene in the movie "Papillon."

But Los Angeles fire officials are warning against public hopes being raised too far by the new invention.

Dick Friend, spokesman of the Los Angeles County fire department said "Those center (jump) sheets of rings that you're always seeing at the fire scene on television, I've never seen one of them at a real fire.

The trouble is that however big the bag is it looks like a postage stamp from way up there.

"Bags like that can raise peoples hopes, make them think they've been saved. They jump and miss, or else they all jump at the same time."

In the past two years Los Angeles has had two disas-

'Mousetrap' Is Longest Running Play

By Andrew Hill

LONDON

Reuter -- In one small part of the West End of London there have been over 8,000 murders in the last 21 years, witnessed by three-and-a-quarter million people.

But few of those people would disclose the murders identity. To do so would be to divulge the plot of "The Mousetrap," the longest-running production in the history of British theater.

The Agatha Christie play celebrated its 21st birthday on November 25. It has had 24 leading ladies -- and 21 of them attended the anniversary luncheon at which 83-year old Dame Agatha was guest of honor.

"The Mousetrap" began life as a radio play, written for the 80th birthday of the late Queen Mary, widow of King George V. Converted into a stage play, it opened at the small Ambassadors Theater on November 25, 1952.

The play was received moderately well by most critics, but no-one predicted a long run.

However, the play has run twice as long as any other play in Britain, taken about 7.5 million dollars at the box office and set a world record for the longest continuous run of any show at the one theater.

Ironically, Miss Christie herself has never made any money from the play. She gave the rights to her grandson, then a baby, when the run began.

The play has become an institution; people who saw it as children in the 1950s now take their offspring. One London critic has declared that "The Mousetrap," like the crown jewels, will go on for ever.

Only Anthony Huntly Gordon, the company manager, has been with the play since it first went into rehearsal. He has watched what is virtually a "Whos Who" of British theater pass through the Ambassadors. But he will not single out any particular production as the best.

"It is always interesting for me to see a new cast," he said. "No two actors play a part the same way, and I am always fascinated by each interpretation of the part."

He attributes the play's longevity to a basically sound plot, the enthusiasm of each new cast, and the legend that has grown up around it.

"Each complete generation grows up and sees the Mousetrap with fresh eyes," he said.

His fondest memory is of the 1957-58 run, when the play became the first full-length murder play to be performed in a British prison.

During the performance at Wormwood Scrubs jail where there were eight murderers in the audience, two prisoners escaped.

When the play eventually finishes, future generations will be able to see it on film. Post-run film rights were sold in 1956, although producer Peter Saunders, who brought the play to the Ambassadors, has tried unsuccessfully to buy them back.

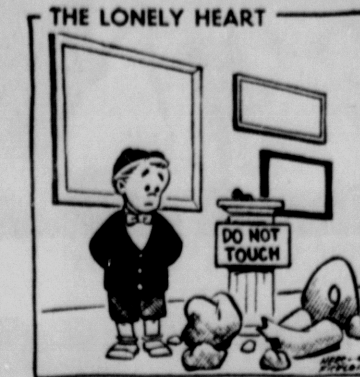

Until then, the play will continue in front of packed houses.

Each night they are implored by an actor not to deter would-be spectators from coming to the play by divulging the identity of the murderer.

Dame Agatha has presented the theater with a brass mousetrap which is displayed in the foyer.

On it the author has engraved her thanks to the theater for the run of "The Mousetrap," -- and leaving a space for the closing date.

 The Sports Herald By Glynn Cummings  ★ District Hopes ★ *****

It's been along time since Yoemen fans have seen the winning of a Basketball Championship, in fact, too long. I think it was somewhere around '69 or '70 when Cameron last won the District Title, but whenever it was, it was the last to be seen around these parts in quite some time. However, last year the Yoemen did win the Zone Title, but were defeated by Taylor in the playoffs. This alone caused much disturbance in the Yoemen basketball program, and perhaps it has set the scene for the winning of a long awaited District Championship. Whether it has or not, one cannot push aside the potential of this year's Cameron Yoemen basketball team.

The Yoemen have already compiled a 10-1 season record, and are just now getting into the 73-74 season. So far the Yoemen, under the coaching of Max Graham, have defeated some highly respected teams. They have defeated Brenham 55-40, Brenham 46-44, Marlin 42-36, Marlin 60-40, Rosebud-Lott 27-15, Spring Branch Memorial J.V. 64-40, Waco Conally 60-59, Del Valle 47-29, Moulton 31-29, and West 81-39. Cameron's only loss was to a strong Hearne team by a 53-41 score.

Perhaps one of the reasons for the 10-1 record, is the Yoe blessing of height. Sophomore Post Ronnie Bennett measures an almost unbelievable 6-6. Junior Forward Harry Brooks stretches to a surprising 6-4. Post David Hollas stands at 6-2, and Jafus White, Gary Horning, David Thomas, and Luther Johnson are all one inch over the six foot mark. Both John Barron, who gives the Yoemen accurate outside shooting, and Troy Daniels, a Junior Forward, stand at an even six foot. Only 2 Yoemen measure under six foot; 5-8 Michael White and 5-9 Randy Sapp.

The Yoe height has haunted opponents all season long, and will continue to do so, because with Bennett, J. White, Hollas, and Brooks around other teams seldom pull down a rebound.

However, height is only one of the many factors that makes the Yoemen a highly recognized candidate for the Title honors. Underneath lies the makings of a true Championship basketball team - determination, ability, hustle, and the willingness to win.

Yoemen on All Tournament Team.

Two Yoemen players were named to the Robinson All Tournament Team, one on the 1st. team and one on the 2nd. team. John Barron was the 1st. team selection, and Ronnie Bennett was the selection.

During the Tournament Barron scored 68 points, and Bennett scored 48. 6-6 Bennett also grabbed around 50 rebounds.

The victory was the first time Cameron won a Tournament in years, and much credit should be given to the entire team.

Yoemen Win 1st

Coach Max Graham's Fighting Yoemen captured the first place title in the Robinson basketball tournament Saturday night, and brought home a well deserved trophy. Yoe guard John Barron made the first team All Tournament selections, and post Ronnie Bennett received second team All Tournament honors.

The four victories during the tournament, along with other regular season play brings the Yoe season record to an impressive 10-1.

During the first game against Waco Conally, the Yoemen used a 45% shooting average to ease past a strong Waco Conally team by a 60-59 score. 6-6 Bennett had the hot hand with 20 points, and Barron tossed in 9 field goals to follow close behind with 18. Bennett also controlled the backboards with 19 rebounds, followed by Harry Brooks with 8 and Jafus White with 7.

In the second game, the Yoemen defeated the Marlin Bulldogs by a 42-36 score. Once again Barron hit for 18 points to lead the Yoemen in scoring, and three Yoe players each scored 6 (J. White, Bennett, and Horning). Troy Daniels added 4 and Harry Brooks 2. This victory advanced Cameron to semi-final action.

The Yoemen, led by the defense play of Gary Horning and Jafus White, stood tall once again and overpowered the Del Valle Cardinals 47-29 in the semi-final action. Offensively Barron led Cameron with 20 points, and Jafus White reached the double figure column with 14. Also aiding in the Yoe victory were: Harry Brooks with 6 points, Gary Horning 5, and Ronnie Bennett 2. White and Bennett led Cameron in the rebounding department with 8 each, and Brooks fought for 6.

The Yoemen ten played West for the tournament championship, and put it all together to capture a 81-39 victory. The Yoe height seemed to cause problems for West as Bennett pulled down 18 rebounds, Brooks 14, and White 9. Four Yoe cagers reached the double column figures against the Trojans: Bennett with 20, Brooks 10, Horning 10 and Barron 12. Also scoring in the winning effort were: Troy Daniels 9, David Thomas 6, Randy Sapp 6, J. White 4, Kenneth Scott 2, and Mike White 2.

Badger Teams Battle Thrall

The Buckholts Badgers Boys basketball team were defeated by a powerful Thrall team, 76-37, and the girls team also suffered a 38-23 slashing at the hands of Thrall in regular season play at Thrall. Both Badger teams are now preparing to meet Bartlett on Dec. 13 in Bartlett.

The Buckholts boys team was behind the entire game, and were unable to come back from a 32-17 halftime score. The story was much the same in the girls game, and they too were unable to make up Thrall's 18-6 halftime lead.

In the boys game Early Webb was the high point man for Buckholts with 12 points, and Carl Tomascik was close behind with 9.

Also aiding in the Badger effort were: Glen Roesler with 8 points, Paul Mendoza 4, and Craig Janek 4. L. Sladek and Zamorsky shared the high point honors for Thrall with 16 points each. In the girls game Vickie Orsag led the scoring for Buckholts with an impressive 17 points, and Roberson led Thrall with 21. The remainder of the Badgers points were scored by Debbie McNeil, Sherry Rubac, and Nancy Vaculin. Each player scored 2 points.

Milano Eagles See Action

Recently, the Milano Eagles have been seeing their share of basketball action. Milano suffered a 47-38 loss to Thorndale, and during the Thrall Tournament the Eagles lost to Bartlett 72-46, lost to Granger 44-34, but came back to beat Thorndale by a 52-49 score.

During the 1st. Thorndale game Bruce Williams was the high point man for Milano with 13 points, and Dwight Wilson scored 10, Jimmy Mills 9, and Joe Gunnels 6. Dwight Wilson with 14 points was the high point man against Bartlett, and Jesse Davis scored 16 for Bartlett. Jimmy Mills led the Eagles in scoring against Granger with 12, and Michaelik tossed in 11 field goals to lead Granger with 22. In Milano's impressive win against Thorndale, Tucker led the Eagles with 25 points.

The Milano girls have also been seeing action against similar opponents. The girls were defeated by Thorndale 62-42, Bartlett 66-40, and later by Thorndale 56-32.

During the first game with Thorndale, Vanessa Davidson led the Eagles in scoring with an impressive 20 points, and Kathy Davenport was close behind with 16.

Cheryl Kornegay scored 4, and JoAnn Knight tossed in 2. Caffey was the leading scorer for Thorndale with 30.

In action against Bartlett, Kathy Davenport had the hot hand with 27 points, and Cheryl Kornegay scored 7. Kathy Davenport was the high scorer once again in the 2nd. Thorndale game with 10 points.

THE ENERGY CRUNCH!

We are going into an energy crunch in this country which will affect us all. Voluntary cutbacks and more efficient usage of our fuel supplies will help. However, it is possible that, despite all our efforts to conserve fuel and maintain full schedules, some deliveries could be slowed, resulting in some temporary shortages, or even out-of-stock items. If this should happen, we will offer an alternative, but we request your patience and understanding. We will do everything possible to continue to offer you a wide selection of products at the lowest prices possible.

How can you help? One way is to save time and energy on your family shopping and meal preparation. Menu and shopping plans are now even more important. Careful evaluation and comparison of the advertised specials will help you determine if the amount of savings will justify the trip to another store.

The inventory of your supplies and storage space are important; buy only in as large a quantity as you can properly store. Clean and defrost your refrigerator and freezer to make more efficient use of these valuable kitchen helpers. Be sure your oven temperature is correct. A clean oven, too, will work more efficiently. Plan to serve some meals by candlelight; it is romantic and glamorous, and it saves electric energy!

Plan to make more efficient use of cooking fuel by planning several dishes which can be cooked in one oven at one temperature, and by planning one-dish combination meals. Buy large cuts of meat and plan more than one meal from each. Cooking double and triple saves on shopping time and fuel. Prepare and cook two main dishes at once and freeze one for later.
